NEXT MEETING: NOV. 3 "BLACKSMITHING & ENGRAVING"

One of the truly important tradesman of early times was the village blacksmith who created hardware for building (hinges, latches, nails), implements for the home (cooking utensils, candle holders), and kept the farm machinery going with tools and repairs to tools.

Marty Johannes has been a blacksmith and engraver for over 30 years, perfecting his skills in these crafts that go back hundreds of years. He will show examples of his work, as well as tools and forged artifacts from the 1700's and 1800's and will relate the materials and skills used in these items.

SPECIAL: LIVE DEMONSTRATION OF ENGRAVING!

Using clay as a medium, Marty will show us first-hand the artisan's techniques for creating the unique designs found in artifacts of yesteryear.

This is our last program speaker until February be sure not to miss it!
